

Part1: The Algorithm Behind the Charts

“True wisdom lies in recognising manipulation, for it is through understanding deceit that one can navigate the labyrinth of influence unscathed” – Dakota

You have finally got hold of this eBook and I know the excitement you have. The first thing I want you to do is to clear any trading concepts that you may have. We are in the preface of transforming you into a seven-figure trader. Not only are you going to learn about the cruel market manipulations but you will also be able to identify and make moves along them.

The media, brokers and trading influencers strive to make you believe that the market is a level ground where all participants have an equal chance to make money. However, this is not the case. Firstly, the market is driven by supply and demand. We were taught that when the demand of a particular currency rises its value appreciates. Unfortunately, this is not the case in practical situation.

They say insider trading is illegal but we see it left right and centre. They say fundamentals moves the market but they only do so if they are in favour of the elites behind the decks. The ground is uneven PERIOD! So should we give up because of this fact and run away from the unfair algorithm, NO. Throughout my 12 years of experience, I have discovered some techniques to identify and navigate through manipulation. I will share with you a few of them in this text.

Becoming a seven-figure trader requires you to have the following attributes:

1. Remove studying, reading or listening to any news to get a trading idea. Everything we see on charts has already factored in the fundamentals. One second before NFP release you would see the market reacting with razor sharp precision. Who in the world can predict something in that manner? Its full proof that someone has access to the information before everyone. Therefore, do not waste your time trying to navigate the rigged information otherwise you will be installed a gambling program.
2. Making money is like making music. When you play a violin or calming piano melody you would not want a drummer next to you. Likewise, do not engage yourself on social media for trading ideas. The algo is withing the chunk, shouting contradicting ideas to give you confusion. A contradicting mindset lead to indecision or difficulty in making clear choices.

We now understand what is against us. This business is incomparable to any other. The next parts of this eBook will enlighten you to take down the giant and attain your long awaited seven figure trader status.

Part 2: The Masters Chart Setup

“Trading markets are like a vast ocean, offering boundaries and opportunities for those who navigate with the right tools.”

The trading industry has conceived a naked chart trading mantra but before we go with those masses can we have a moment to critically think and answer the following

1. How do we know if we are in a diverging market without indicators?
2. How do we know we are in trending mode?
3. How do we eliminate fake setups?
4. How do we remove subjectivity?

It's a lie without tools its much more subjective in trading. We dived deep in the Becoming A 7 Figure Trader's Program and revealed a proof that you need indicators to indicate not predict the markets. Therefore, you will need these tools.

Candlesticks

Candlesticks are the basis of our charts. They carry a lot of information with manipulation included. You have been programmed to set your candlesticks in Green and Red. These are psychological trigger colours that mess with your brain prefrontal cortex. This region of your brain is involved in executive functions such as reasoning, planning and impulse control, all of which are essential components of decision making. When you see fast moving fast moving red candlesticks while in a long position you are likely going to close the position prematurely. The same effect carries your mind through on the side of FOMO. Trading is stressful and candlestick colour must not add on to the bucket.

We are going change candlestick colour from green to red to black and white. WHY?

They have direct effect on your brain function. When black and white are used together, they create a high contrast visual effect that can draw attention and create visual interest and focus. Moreover, they convey a sense of clarity and simplicity. This is the time to go and rip off what the masses are doing and change our colours of operations.

Learn How to Trade Forex Institutionally - Bunnex Investment Group

Part 3: Entries

“The forex market moves like a symphony orchestrated by the forces of supply and demand, creating a space of opportunity and risk for traders to navigate.”

Markets move in waves. Knowing and understanding where the waves start and end will give you market prediction accuracy unheard of. The basic concept of trading profitably is to know which dip to buy and which rally to sell.

Below are the pristine points of market entry,

This template simplifies how we view the markets and have a few rules to get a market entry. This is the same exact template I have been using to pass countless prop firm account challenges. You too can attain achievement certificates shown below.

THIS CERTIFICATE IS PROUDLY PRESENTED TO CERTIFY THAT,

Sidney Bunu

IS NOW OFFICIALLY A FUNDEDNEXT 'ELITE TRADER'.

This accomplishment reflects outstanding strategy execution, proper risk allocation, rigid discipline and a special attention to market nuances. The trader possesses skills to potentially operate as a professional trader in high frequency financial markets for the firm, FundedNext.

DATE: 08-01-2024

Abdullah Jayed

ABDULLAH JAYED
CEO, FUNDEDNEXT

THIS CERTIFICATE IS AWARDED TO:

Sidney Bunu

THIS TRADER HAS SUCCESSFULLY PASSED THE FXIFY EVALUATION.

This accomplishment reflects that the trader has passed all of the trading objectives within the required trading period. Passing the FXIFY challenge shows that the trader has demonstrated strict discipline in risk management and followed a profitable trading strategy.

2024-03-04

DATE

David Bredy

Co - Founder

Next step!

Your next step is now to take action. Be part of your last trading program and follow everything discussed there religiously.

What would it feel like if this was your reality?

- 1: You are your own boss and get to work (and not work) whenever you decide!
- 2: You are making a full-time income from your laptop while staying at your dream destination!
- 3: You are a consistently profitable trader and you get to tell everyone that doubted you about your successful transition to full-time trading!
- 4: You get to live a life of financial & complete freedom!

If it feel good then take Action Now..

CLICK HERE TO BECOME A SEVEN FIGURE TRADER